

NEWS RELEASE

Haves L. McNeal buys majority ownership in Creative Printing Services, Inc., and the Manufacturer will become one of the Largest Minority Owned Companies in the Business.

Des Plaines, Illinois , January 3, 2005 -- Creative Printing Services, Inc., today announced that Haves L. McNeal will become majority shareholder and that it is in the process of seeking minority certification from the Chicago Minority Business Development Council. Creative Printing Services is a full service print manufacturer in the commercial printing industry. Once certified, the company will become one of the largest minority business enterprise manufacturers in the trade. Within the commercial print market the company services customers in the financial, technology, publishing segments and other key verticals.

Haves will serve as president & CEO of the company, which has been in operation for approximately 20 years. He has held a variety of executive level positions in printing, publishing and packaging companies, where he has managed operations both domestically and internationally. Most recently, he worked at RR Donnelley, the largest printing company in North America, for six years in Chicago , Illinois . He held a number of posts during his tenure, including senior vice president of operations, in the Telecommunications Business Unit.

Prior to employment at RR Donnelley, Haves worked at Golden Books Publishing for 17 years, a company headquartered in New York City . He served in several management capacities, including General Manager and Senior Vice President responsible for sales, marketing, operations and distribution.

About Creative Printing Services, Inc.

Creative Printing Services, Inc., is a full service print manufacturer, providing digital prepress, sheet-fed printing, cold web offset printing, heat offset web printing, saddle stitching, perfect binding, die-cutting and fulfillment and distribution services. Based in the Chicago metropolitan area, the company specializes in providing total end-to-end solutions to our broad base of customers.